News Release

Third Age Joins LarsonAllen

For release on or after December 28, 2009

MINNEAPOLIS—Philadelphia-based Third Age, Inc. (Third Age) is joining LarsonAllen LLP (LarsonAllen) effective January 1, 2010. Third Age specializes in planning, research, management, and marketing services for senior housing and senior care providers across the country.

“Third Age expands LarsonAllen’s ability to meet the needs of our senior living and aging services clients. With nearly 40 years of consulting experience, the capabilities of Third Age, combined with LarsonAllen’s capabilities, offer our firms the ability to impact clients in a unique and positive way,” says John Richter, principal-in-charge of LarsonAllen health care.

Third Age’s rich history of specialization in the field of aging services will deepen LarsonAllen’s resources for senior living and community-based service providers. LarsonAllen will provide additional resources for Third Age clients in the areas of finance and forecasting and reimbursement. Both firms have extensive experience in strategic planning and operational evaluation and analysis.

“Our firm’s core competencies complement one another, which allows us to provide a broader range of services for our clients,” says Scott Townsley, managing partner with Third Age. “The two firms have similar values and are dedicated to building long-term client relationships through personal service and a commitment to client satisfaction.”

Third Age was founded in 1971 and has grown to a firm of five principals and more than 10 consultants who serve clients across the country. Together, LarsonAllen and Third Age will have more than 300 people serving health care clients nationally.

LarsonAllen LLP (LarsonAllen) is a professional service firm that provides assurance, accounting, tax, consulting, and advisory services to organizations and individuals managing business ventures and finance.
